

Gender Issues in Art, Architecture and Urban Planning. Female Modernists.

We are happy to announce an academic conference on “Gender Issues in Art, Architecture and Urban Planning. Female Modernists”!
It will be held on 11–12 March 2016 in Kyiv, in Zabolotny State Scientific Library of Architecture and Construction.

The cross-disciplinary conference principally aims at driving attention to gender issues and investigating the women’s role in modernist architecture, art and urban planning.

The conference will host two thematic sections and a round table featuring researchers and specialists from Ukraine and other European countries. The first section dedicated to theoretical and historical issues will focus on woman as creator and subject of architecture and art. The other section will be dedicated to practical and urbanistic issues, while its focus will be woman as beneficiary of architectural space and object of project activities. The round table will gather hands-on architects, and cast light on profession-related gender inequality encountered by women who work in the field of architecture.

We invite to participate architectural and art historians, sociologists, architects and culture experts, as well as other researchers, postgraduate students interested in presentation and further publication of their academic works related to gender issues in architecture and art.

If you are interested in participating in one of the mentioned sections, you are welcome to submit the synopsis of your research containing at most 300 words, and your brief curriculum vitae.

If you are interested in participating in the round table, you are welcome to submit an essay on your career in architecture or urban planning containing at most 300 words, and your brief curriculum vitae.

Send your applications to female.modernists@gmail.com before 15 February 2016.
